Central Evangelical Plans Celebration With Burning of Final Note Against the Property

Guild Hall of Central Evangelical Church presented a beautiful scene on Tuesday night when the members gathered for the annual dinner and business meeting. Ten tables filled the large social hall. The splendid banquet was the gift of the Ladies' Guild.

Reports that showed good work and success were given by Paul Deany for the Christian Endeavor Society; Mrs. Marcella Kimbel for the Young People's Missionary Circle; Mrs. N. A. Leake for the Women's Missionary Society; W. E. Bowen for the Sunday school; Mrs. J. F. Spehger for the Ladies' Guild, and F. C. Winkler for the trustee board.

Mrs. J. Ferguson, the president-elect of the Ladies' Guild, was introduced to the meeting. It was reported that the following Stewards had been elected: I. A. Beecher, G. Dalton, J. Grosskopf, W. H. Huslam, J. W. Hudson, G. G. Key, Dr. Lancaster, D. McCormack, G. W. McKenzie, J. W. Post, J. F. Spehger, W. P. Taylor.

G. W. McKenzie presented the treasurer's report, as audited by Mr. Post and Dr. Lancaster. W. H. Huslam was elected treasurer for the coming year. A vote of thanks and a gift expressing appreciation for the seven years of service as treasurer was given to Mr. McKenzie, who, with Mrs. McKenzie, are going East for six months.

P. G. Briney was elected to succeed himself as trustee.

W. E. Bowen, I. A. Beecher, and J. Grosskopf were elected Sunday School Superintendent; Assistant Superintendent and Secretary.

General rejoicing followed the announcement that the final payment on the church debt was being forwarded, and it was decided to have a formal dinner when the last note was returned for burning. This beautiful property, a credit to growing Torrance, is now free from encumbrance and ready to widen its program of consistent church activity.

Mrs. T. Oelkes, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Folkrod in two well-received violin numbers. With the special Memorial service next Sunday at which Dr. Henry Irvin Hasmus of Glendale speaks, the present church year closes. The Annual Conference convenes May 7 in Santa Ana.

Bobby Learns About Bottles When He Drinks Gasoline

Robert Colebourne, age 3 1/2, liked to drink water from a bottle. So his mother, Mrs. Fred Colebourne, 1303 Amapola avenue, used to keep a bottle around for him, filled with water.

Monday morning, Bobby wanted a drink. He saw a bottle of colorless fluid and tilted it back and drank. It was fiery, and it burned his mouth, so he screamed in his best protesting way.

Mother Colebourne came to the rescue and found that Bobby had imbibed freely of a bottle of gasoline that was on the back porch. She promptly rushed him to the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital, where little Bobby's stomach was well washed out for him

Aged Mother of Late Geo. Welch Passes in East

City Clerk A. H. Bartlett has received a copy of his old home town paper in Gowanda, N. Y., with an account of the death of Mrs. William W. Welch, mother of the late George Welch of Torrance. Mrs. Welch is described as a kindly, gracious woman, respected by the entire community of Gowanda, where she was born 90 years ago. Mr. Bartlett also lived in Gowanda for sixteen years before the western urge brought him to California. Mrs. Welch passed away on April 15.
